To the Public.

THE SENTINEL, having double the circulation IN THE CITY, and more than treble out of it, of any other paper here, renders it far the cheapest and most desirable medium in Milwaukee for all classes of Advertisements.

EVERY BUSINESS MAN who consults his own interest, will avail himself of the columns of THE DAILY SENTINEL,—especially when he can do so at the same prices charged by other papers, and secure more than double the advantage of circulation.

This is no boast, but EVERY WORD TRUE.

News Digest.

An immense Republican mass meeting was held at Vincennes, Ind., on Saturday. Great enthusiasm was manifested. It is said to have been the largest political gathering that ever took place in Southern Indiana.

The Turks have captured and burned Zeit, the last stronghold of the Christians in Lebanon. It is rumored that Zidon has also been destroyed, and 2,500 Christians massacred.

Advices from Pike's Peak mention a report of rich discoveries of gold in a gulch on the west slope of the Rocky Mountains. The rumor needs confirmation.

Three persons were drowned in Boston Harbor, Friday night, by the upsetting of a pleasure boat.

Two persons were burned to death at a fire in Lawrence, Mass., on Saturday.

From the North.

By almost every mail we receive letters from active Democrats in the country in the northern tier of States from Wisconsin and Minnesota—conveying the most interesting intelligence in regard to the feeling of the masses on the Presidential question. If our information which is received every day, and every day corroborated,is reliable then it does appear that Lincoln is constantly losing supporters by the hundreds, and that Douglas and Johnson are gaining them to the standard of the Union and the Constitution. In some townships we have heard of more than one disgusted with the manifestations of Republican fanaticism—who by dozens and scores have "come out from the foul party" and ranged themselves proudly under the banner of National Democracy. Thousands in Wisconsin who are Democrats in sentiment still have been waiting until now for an opportunity to act as Democrats—were never attached to the Republican party though they voted with it, and will be found now among the most enthusiastic for the national candidates. It is the same in all the Northern and Northwestern States.—Chicago Times, (Douglas.)

It is by such canards that the DOUGLAS or gang strive to keep up the sinking spirits of their faction. So far as Wisconsin is concerned, the information of the Chicago Times is purely bogus. Instead of any falling off here, from the Republican strength, there are constant accessions to our ranks. In this City and County we shall gain heavily on the vote of 1856, when FREMONT had some thirteen thousand majority in the State. The popular current, all through the Northwest, is setting strongly in favor of LINCOLN and HAMLIN and will bear them on, in full tide, to Victory in November.

BLONDIN'S FOURTH PERFORMANCE.—The Niagara Falls Gazette has the following in regard to BLONDIN's ascension Wednesday:

"Yesterday afternoon, Mons. Blondin gave his fourth public exhibition on his rope over the Niagara. There were more people in town than on any previous occasion. One or two large excursion parties from Canada came over the lake, and the train from Buffalo brought a crowd. There were but few, however, on the Canada side. The Bridge was occupied by nearly or quite a thousand.

Blondin walked first from the Canada side, going through his usual performances until he came to the centre, where he fastened his balancing pole to the cable and descended a slack rope, the two ends of which are fastened some 50 feet apart to his main cable, the slack hanging some 20 to 30 feet below. Upon this stage he ran down as though perfectly at home. He suspended himself from this, with straps, hanging two or three feet below. He also stood up, to every appearance really a dangerous act. But when he whirled himself like a wheel, heels over head, and very fast, people held their breath for fear, and in utter amazement.—Some turned their backs upon him, not wishing to look upon such a fearful performance. After returning to his highway, he completed the trip to the American side, where he was warmly received.

Blondin immediately placed his baskets—about the size and shape of ordinary peach baskets—on his feet, and started back to Canada, making the trip in a few minutes. Without delay he then returned to the American side, walking backwards rapidly. The whole performance was a triumph of skill and daring. The crowd dispersed highly pleased.

The rain, which continued until late in the afternoon, kept many away. A large number remained here who would otherwise have been present. In the crowd we noticed Mr. Robling, the builder of Suspension Bridge."

THE TRANS-ATLANTIC AIR SHIP.—Preparations are going rapidly on for the departure of Professor Lowe on his aerial expedition across the Atlantic. Subscriptions are being received by Professor Treseau, President, and William Hamilton, Actuary, of the Franklin Institute, and Lorin Blodgett, Esq., Secretary of the Board of Trade, for the purpose of equipping the air ship with instruments for inflation and other incidental expenses. It really seems after the success of the trial trip made a short time since, that there is nothing to hinder the attempt from being made, and whether fully successful or not, it must add something to the general stock of scientific knowledge, and with the splendid life-boat and other skillful appliances, it seems as if there could be no danger, even if they should descend into the ocean. Professor Lowe states that he will take letters for all parts of Europe, and is fully confident that he can deliver them safely in forty-eight hours. The crew of the Great Western is to consist of four persons, viz:—Professor Lowe and two scientific associates, and an experienced sea-captain, to take charge of the boat in case it should be necessary to take to the water.—Philadelphia North American, July 16.

A VOTE FOR PRESIDENT.—On Saturday last, a firm in this city, extensively engaged in manufacturing, and doing a wholesale business, very politely requested each customer, as he came in, to name his preference of the candidates in nomination for President. This request was also extended to their employees. On closing the store at night, it was found that two hundred and thirty five persons had voted, as follows:

For Abraham Lincoln	150
For S. A. Douglas	68
For John C. Breckinridge	16
For John Bell	01
Total	235

Among all the persons solicited to vote, not one objected, but frankly gave his preference as above. The greater portion of those voting were Germans and all of them citizens. It is a fair test of the popular feeling in this quarter.—Buffalo Express.

"LE FOLLET" for July says of Paris fashions:—"By degrees flounces appear to be regaining the position which for a time they had partially lost. For dresses of thin texture they certainly form the prettiest and most suitable ornament. On barege or tarlatane, pliese or bouillone may be used effectively. For summer toilet large open sleeves will be generally adopted. Bonnets preserve the same form they had at the beginning of the season—that is to say, pointed in the front and reaching far over the forehead—leghorn, black crinoline mixed with straw, and plain and fancy straws, are still much worn for morning bonnets."

AMONG the appropriations to be voted by the British Parliament is one of $57,000 for Dr. Livingstone's explorations in Africa, for which another steamer is needed. The discoveries of Dr. Livingstone are regarded as of the greatest importance at the Cape Colony, and the Colonial Legislature has appropriated funds to keep up a regular inland communication with the exploring party.

THE OFFICE HOLDERS at Washington complain of being taxed to organize campaign clubs for Breckenridge, which Mr. Lincoln's election is certain, and they are endeavoring to prepare for a general exodus after the 4th of March.

A SUMMER LETTER.

"Give us something crisp and breezy, Fidol."

NEW YORK, July 18, '60.

UP THE RIVER.

I intended to have boarded the Great Eastern before this; but getting rather too much of boarding in New York, I deferred the attempt until a short run up the Hudson would invigorate and prepare me for the better doing of that monster. So I have sailed past her in the little steamer Aurora; measured her immensity with my eye; saw a man standing upright in one of her open ports; looked up her sides, which are as high as HASSETT & CHAPMAN's new store, and left her pro tem.

It does a Western man's heart good to glide between the hills of the Hudson. The bold scenery, which rivals that on the Rhine, is not alone the source of interest. The river has become classic to Americans; every shadowy nook in its banks is rich with legendary lore; every cluster of white houses has a Revolutionary tale of its own. Its lights and shadows are historical; and the historians and poets have themselves clustered along its margin and beautified with terraces and castellated villas the mountains and valleys, and woven the thread of romance into the green woof Weehawken, Manhattanville, Spuyten Duvil, Yonkers—all niched in just where they used to be, within sound of the Great Babel, but hushed and serene themselves. Then the Palisades on which the pigmy trees stand sentinel, and over whose purple shadows the ghost-like steamers glide; Tappan, where ANDRE suffered; Dobbs' Ferry, where ENOCH CROSBY performed brilliant exploits; Wolfert's Roost; Sunnyside, no longer holding the eloquent story-teller; Piermont, once the depot of Orange and Rockland county dairies; Nyack and the Tappan "Zee," Irvington, Sleepy Hollow, Sing Sing, with its bastile; and on thus, a rapid succession of towns and country seats, to each of which there belongs a proper story.

Just time to run up in the gloom of Sleepy Hollow, and take a look at the tomb of WASHINGTON IRVING and the monument erected to the memory of the three brave fellows who captured Major ANDRE.

A hurried drive over the battle field of White Plains, and then the whistle of the Hudson River railroad coaxes me to the depot, and I fly away back to the city. This is enough of the Hudson. Nobody undertakes to "do" the Hudson now-a-days, when N. P. WILLIS, ensconced at his Idlewild redoubt, keeps mercilessly "doing" it every week in the Home Journal.

A DEMOCRAT'S NARRATIVE

In a seat beside a venerable looking man, whose black hat and coat and cravat were dust covered, as with long travel. A few minutes attention to the unparalleled rapidity of this same Hudson River Railway travel, and then to the old man.

"Sir, you seem to have traveled a great distance."

"Yes, some two thousand miles."

"Ah, indeed! What part of the West?"

"Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin."

"Then you can express an opinion as to the result of the Presidential canvass in those States."

"No, I can't. I might have done so before I left home; but now that I have got back, I confess I don't know anything about it."

"Don't you find the sentiment very strong for LINCOLN?

"Yes—sentiment indeed, rather than sense. The Republicans enlist all the sentiment; they are a sentimental set."

Seeing I was more amused than surprised, he continued:

"See here,—I'll tell you. I am sixty years old. I have raised a family of four boys, and raised them all in the orthodox Democratic faith. Fifteen years ago my boy JOHN went to Illinois, and voted the Democratic ticket regularly. I did well with JOHN and helped him stock his farm and pay off his mortgage. He was a smart boy—was JOHN.—Well, sir, when that debate between DOUGLAS and LINCOLN was raging in Illinois, JOHN got a crochet in his head and became a Republican. It was a hard blow for me, I tell you. Well, PHIL grew up, and I set him up in Des Moines; bought him a quarter section and told him to get married. PHIL did well, but the first thing I heard was that he was a Republican, and the young scamp tried to convert me by writing long letters about the Kansas muss, &c. I talked pretty sharp to both of them, but they both voted for FREMONT in spite of me. But there was ROGER and DAN to home yet, and I felt sure they would never desert the faith of their father. In 1857 I set ROGER up in Iowa, alongside of his brother, with a faint hope that he might reclaim him. And DAN went off to Rock county, Wisconsin; and a year ago I found out sir, that ROGER was publishing a Republican paper, and DAN was making speeches for a Republican Governor in Wisconsin. It nearly broke my heart, but what I could do. The boys said they now saw the error of voting for BUCHANAN. Well, sir, a few months ago I made up my mind to go West myself, for the first time in my life, and see about things. I did go West, and I happened to hear DOUGLAS make a speech while I was away from home. You may not believe it, sir, but I'm going home now and I don't know whether I'm a Democrat or a Republican myself."

When I reached the city, I encountered the Zouaves going to Brooklyn to inspect the Navy Yard. Their march down Broadway beat everything but the procession of the Equinoxes. Judging from their smiling faces, they have received remittances from Chicago.

STREET OBSERVATIONS.

Broadway is the only street that looked familiar to me after a three year's absence—And Broadway keeps moving North. Union Square is no longer a barrier, fifteen are creeping in here, and the patricians give way for trade.

The bronzy statue of Washington, that looks so eagerly at the Church of the Pilgrims—as though anxious to hear of Dr. CHEEVER's success in England, will soon be surrounded by cabs and express men and carts.

I notice the ladies wear a new style of leather pin, with a photograph of TOMMY thereon. I notice also that fans, belts, portmonnais and smelling-bottles bear TOMMY's Japanese "phiz;" a few ornaments to wear round the neck with TOMMY and DOUGLAS together, like a pair of Siamese twins, will be the next move.

The travel on the Avenues is past all description. The 2d and 3d Avenue cars, it is calculated, together carry between ten and twelve thousand people every day.

The Third Avenue Company have built a depot at 65th street, as large as the Newhall House, with stables attached containing twelve hundred horses.

Just opposite this depot the remains of Hamilton Square are visible, with the unsprouted seed of the Washington Monument planted with so much pomp a few years ago. To the north of the depot, is "Jones' Woods," the popular resort of the Germans on Sunday—a sylvan retreat, the equal of which is not seen in any State, sloping as it does to the East River, and affording a view of Blackwell's Island and Hell Gate.

The amount of lager beer that is carried over the Third Avenue on Sunday would float the "Great Eastern." If I had not headed this a "Summer Letter," you should be treated to a daring disquisition on the Sunday question, which the Atlas would copy and properly cut up.

A large and enthusiastic Republican meeting was held in Union Square on Monday evening. HORACE GREELEY was one of the speakers. I listened to him with great attention, as did all the crowd. As New York has the name of being a rowdy city, I will merely state here that the Democrats were peaceable; they did not lower any coffins into the crowd, nor did they try to disturb the speakers by shouting and carrying gangs of loafers through the assembly. Let Milwaukee draw her own inference. SKIM

SHOCKING FATE OF A LOST CHILD.—Several notices have recently been published in the Newark (N. J.) journals, concerning a child named Thomas Henry Finley, aged 4 1-2 years, who disappeared on July 5th, having followed from home the band of the Turners, who had a pic-nic that day. His dead body was found on Saturday, near the Kossuth Woods, on the "Neck," almost imbedded in the mud. The child had evidently followed the procession to that vicinity, and having started to return to his home, over the meadows, had become fastened in the mire, and perished from exposure and hunger.

During the night of the 5th, his cries were heard, but nothing unusual was suspected and no search was undertaken. The face had been eaten away, probably by muskrats, and the body was otherwise mutilated. One thumb was found in his mouth, showing that in the agony of starvation the lad had attempted to relieve himself. He had perhaps lingered in this horrible condition for two or three days, under a broiling sun by day and exposed to cold by night, and finally perished.

USE OF THE BAROMETER ON A FARM.—John Underwood, of Aurelius, N. J. secured his entire crop of hay this summer by consulting the barometer. The morning he commenced cutting his hay, looked cloudy and felt like rain; still the barometer pointed unerringly to dry weather, and on the strength of that the hay was cut, cured and secured before any rain made its appearance. But for the barometer the hay would have been standing at this time. Who doubts that the instrument paid for itself by that one item of information? The time is coming when the farmer will as soon think of returning to the scythe as to be without the infallible weather, the barometer.

SPOILING A ROYAL MARRIAGE.—Garibaldi, in promoting the union of Italy, has seriously interfered with the marriage of the Count of Trani, brother of the young King of Naples, with the Princess Isabel, of Bavaria, which was to have "come off" in September of this year. It has been adjourned sine die; his Bavarian majesty, like a prudent papa, declining to send his daughter into a house out of which he sees so great a number of rats running at the top of their speed. A cotemporary hopes the young pair will take a little "divine philosophy," and not rush rashly into the vein of Romeo and Juliet.

CURIOUS FACTS.—It was stated in the recent debates in the French Corps Legislatif that out of 36,000,000 souls in France, 20,000,000 never saw woolen goods of any sort. It has also been recently asserted that 25,000,000 of people there never eat meat oftener than once a week. Paris annually consumes 280,000,000 pounds of vegetables; the the market gardens near Paris cover more than 2,760 acres, use 2,160,000 glass bells, 360,000 panes of glass, (over hot beds,) occupy 9,000 people, 1,700 horses, consume $263,000 of manures, return $2,700,000 by sales of vegetables.

DEATH FROM SUNSTROKE.—Newspapers are beginning to record deaths in various parts of the country from sunstroke. It may do some good to repeat the fact that a wet handkerchief placed in the hat over the top of the head, will be a protection against the rays of the sun so fatal to those now exposed so long to them. The remedy costs nothing, and is as effectual as anything that can be tried. Laborers and workmen employed in the sun should remember this fact and not fail to try it.

BODIES FOUND.—The bodies of the two young ladies,- nieces of Mr. Grant Harris, who were drowned with him by the upsetting of a boat, in which they were taking a sail on the Potomac last week, were recovered between 12 and 1 o'clock on Saturday, and taken to the late residence of their uncle to be prepared for interment. The drags were then put in operation to recover the body of Mr. Harris, with what success we have not learned.—Baltimore Sun.

THE FATE of Miss Emily Wheeler, the daughter of the General who commanded at Cawnpore in India during the Sepoy rebellion, has been definitely ascertained. She was carried by a sowar of Rampore, who slew her and threw her body into a dry well, in consequence of a quarrel between him and his wife.

From Pike's Peak.

ST. JOSEPH, July 21—3 P. M.

The Pike's Peak express arrived here last night. The advices are as follows:

DENVER CITY, July 15.

This city was yesterday visited by a severe thunder storm. For one hour the rain fell in a perfect sheet, accompanied with hail. The streets were flooded with water, and quite a large amount of goods were damaged, by sellers being flooded with water.

The Metropolitan Billiard Saloon was struck by lightning, shattering one corner of the building and stunning several persons, but seriously injuring none.

We have enjoyed fine showers every forenoon much to the joy of our gardeners.

A large building with a brick front, on Blake street, in process of erection, fell in during the storm, owing to the walls being undermined by the flood.

A shooting affray occurred at West Denver yesterday afternoon. A mulatto man named Stark, formerly from Omaha, applied to Charles Harrison an insulting epithet, and drew his knife, when Harrison drew a revolver and shot him in three different places. The wounds are not considered fatal, and Stark will probably recover. Harrison is generally considered justified in shooting him.

There are reported discoveries from the west slope of the range 100 miles from California. A gulch of marvellous thickness is reported to have been discovered, and lumps are said to have been found the size of a hens egg. The report needs confirmation.

A Meteor Passed over New York.

NEW ROSE, July 21—8 P. M.

A splendid meteor passed over New York and Brooklyn last night. It presented the appearance of two balls of fire, each with a tail, and almost joining each other. The meteor died away in a single dull ball of fire. It was a remarkably brilliant affair, and attracted much attention.

Reverdy Johnson and Senator Benjamin left for California to-day, in the steamer North Star.

Boston Matters.

BOSTON, July 21—3 P. M.

A pleasure boat containing eleven persons was run into by a schooner last night, in the harbor, drowning two young women, aged sixteen and seventeen years, and a young man, all Irish, names not yet ascertained.

A public reception was given to Hon. Anson Burlingame, Gov. Banks, Hon. John Sergent. There was a large attendance.

Massacre of Christians by the Turks.

BOSTON, July 21—3 P. M.

A letter to the Boston Traveller, dated June 21, announces that Zeit, the last stronghold of the Christians at Lebanon, had been captured and burned, and that the Christians were flying in all directions. It was rumored that Zidon had also been destroyed, and 2,500 Christians massacred. The defence of Zeit was heroic.

Fire at Lawrence, Mass.

LAWRENCE, Mass., July 21—3 P. M.

A large wooden building, owned by Mr. Hazleton, in connection with the Riverhill Loan Fund Association, and occupied by several Irish families, was nearly destroyed by fire this morning. A woman and child were burnt to death, and two firemen were badly injured by a falling chimney.

The Chicago Zouaves at Boston.

BOSTON, July 21—3 P. M.

The Chicago Zouaves arrived at about 7 o'clock this morning, and were received by the 1st Company of the 2nd Battalion. It is raining, which may interfere with the proposed drill on the Common this afternoon.

The steamer Gazelle will leave Olmstead's dock every evening (Saturdays excepted) at 7 o'clock for the above and intermediate ports.

FOR TWO RIVERS.

The steamer Hatton leaves Olmstead's dock, every evening at 8 o'clock, for Port Washington, Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Two Rivers.

FOR BUFFALO.

Screw steamers, with good accommodations, leave the different transportation docks every day, for Buffalo.

FOR OSWEGO AND ODDENSBURGH.

One of the Northern Transportation Co's screw steamers sails for the above ports every day, from the Ins Company's dock at the M. & Miss. R. R. depot, touching at nearly all intermediate ports.

FOR COLLINGWOOD.

The Collingwood Line of screw steamers leave semi-weekly from Dousman's dock, foot of East Water Street, connecting at Collingwood with the Northern Railway of Canada, for the East.

FOR GREEN BAY.

The screw steamer Wabash Valley makes weekly trips to the above port starting from Olmsted's dock

SIXTH WARD REPUBLICAN CLUB.—A meeting of the Sixth Ward Republican Club will be held on Monday evening next, at at MEISTER's Brewery, corner of Third and Walnut streets. Good speaking may be expected, and a full attendance of the members. 2t

State Teachers' Association.

It will be seen by the subjoined communication from the Superintendent of Schools that the next annual meeting of our State Teachers' Association is to be held in this city on Wednesday, the 1st of August. We trust that the appeal which the Superintendent makes to the hospitality of our citizens will meet with a cordial and generous response:

To the Editor of the Sentinel:

It is probably not known to many of our citizens that the State Teachers' Association convenes here on the first day of August.—For a number of years past, this body have held their meetings in different parts of the State and have met with a cordial welcome wherever assembled. Communities have thrown wide open their doors and made them their guests. Last year they met at Madison and were received with a very generous hospitality. Some 250 teachers were present.—From 300 to 350 are expected this year, and it is hoped that ample accommodations will be provided. Will our citizens please take this matter in consideration and act immediately? Let the names of those families who will entertain teachers be given to any of the teachers of the Ward Schools, and they will at once be forwarded to the Superintendent and entered on the list already begun.

J. FORD,
Superintendent of Schools.

A VERY FINE PORTRAIT of PRESIDENT LINCOLN.—We are indebted to the publisher, Mr. GEO. WARD NICHOLS, of 736 Broadway, New York, for a copy of BARRY's great portrait of ABRAHAM LINCOLN. Mr. BARRY is an accomplished Boston artist, and visited Springfield just after the Chicago Convention, to paint Mr. LINCOLN. He succeeded in making a capital picture, not only as a work of art, but as a striking likeness. It is beyond comparison the best we have seen, and does full justice to, without in the least flattering Mr. LINCOLN. The face is in repose, but betrays great intellectual power, a strong will and unimpeachable honesty.—You do not need to be told, after looking at the picture, that the original is a strong, upright, self-made and successful man; or that he possesses precisely those qualities—firmness of purpose, integrity of character, a clear intellect, a sound judgment and an intuitive knowledge of men—which are especially required in the incumbent of the Executive office. These are traits that re-call to mind the iron will of ANDREW JACKSON, the genial and generous nature of HENRY CLAY, and the sturdy honesty of ZACHARY TAYLOR.

Three sizes of this fine portrait are published by Mr. NICHOLS. The largest, in Indian proof, is sold for $3; the next in size, tinted, for $1 50; and the third, plain, for $1. The picture may be seen in the Editor's room of the SENTINEL, and at TUNIS' News Depot, on Wisconsin street. Mr. W. E. HAYLEY, who is the Agent for this State, will supply all orders for the Patriarch.

BUSINESS NOTICE.—In our new advertising columns will be found the card of GEO. DYER & Co., Harness dealers of Milwaukee. This house has been established 14 years and it contains one of the most complete stocks in the west. They are constantly buying in the eastern market, purchased luxuriously from first hands, manufacturing largely themselves, and selling at figures which always hold a customer. We know them well by reputation, and have no hesitation in guaranteeing fair treatment and reasonable prices to all who patronize them.—McGregor Times.

SPLENDID HARVEST WEATHER.—The weather on Saturday was superb—just the thing for the fast-ripening grain and the labors of the harvest. The rains of Wednesday and Friday, though copious, did no material damage to the Wheat, but were of infinite advantage to the Corn, Potatoes, Vegetables and Pastures. Another week or two of fine weather and the grain crop of Wisconsin, unequalled in quality and quantity, will be secure.

A WIGWAM FOR THE GERMAN WARDS.—The "Wide-Awake" Republicans of the Second, Sixth and Ninth Wards, have resolved to build a Wigwam on the corner of Fifth and Galena streets, to accommodate the Republican gatherings in that quarter of the city. The move is a good one, and deserves the hearty encouragement of the Republicans in other Wards.

THE DUTCH REPUBLICAN PAPER.—We learn from Mr. SALVERDA, that he has purchased his press, type and other materials, and will start his Dutch Republican paper in the course of the next fortnight. It will no doubt prove a valuable auxiliary in the coming contest between the hosts of Freedom and the forces of Slavery.

HARPER FOR AUGUST.—STRICKLAND & Co. send us Harper for August, an unusually good number, containing illustrated articles to "the Red River trip," "John Bull in Japan," the "Battle of Bennington," &c—THACKERAY's "George the First" is a very clever paper. Indeed the number is rich in pleasant reading and graphic illustrations.

LAW OFFICE.—Mr. D. E. CAMERON, having recovered from his long illness, has resumed the practice of his profession, and opened an office in the Arcade Buildings, 171 1-2 East Water Street. His numerous friends will be glad to hear of his restoration to health and active life.

ACCIDENT.—The steamer Huron broke her connecting rod pin at or near Port Ulao, on her trip north, Friday, and returned to this port. She left again on time, Saturday evening.

State Teachers' Association.

Notice is hereby given to the teachers that contemplate attending the State Teachers' Association, to be held in Milwaukee, on the 1st of August next, that all the railroads leading from Milwaukee, will carry teachers, to and from the Association, at half-fare—i. e., full fare on coming to the city, and return free.

The Association will hold its first session in the First Presbyterian Church, corner of Mason and Milwaukee streets, on Wednesday at 3 p. m., on the first floor. The Committee of Arrangements will be at the basement of the Church during the whole day, to assign persons, as they report themselves, places of entertainment. J. FORD,
Superintendent of Schools.

Milwaukee, July 21st, 1860.

P. S.—Will the Press throughout the State please extend the notice.

City papers please copy d&wtd.

CHILD LOST.—A little boy of four years of age, named FRANK, son of a German by the name of RUDRINSKI, was lost on Milwaukee street, in the Third Ward, on Saturday evening. The child has dark hair and eyes, and is full faced. His parents reside on Milwaukee between Michigan and Huron, and were greatly distressed at not being able to find their child.

MUNICIPAL COURT.—Wm. Smith, disorderly; penalty and costs $10, or thirty days in jail Committed.

CARD OF J. A. BENEDICT.

HAVING AS SOCIATED J. G. BALDWIN AND F. W. AMBLER with me in business, I take this opportunity to return thanks to the trade and public generally, for the liberal patronage they have here before favored me with, and to assure them that I shall continue to strive, in connection with my aforesaid partners, to merit a large share of their generous patronage.

Milwaukee, July 16th, 1860.

PARTNERSHIP.

The undersigned would respectfully announce that they have this day formed a co-partnership under the firm-name of J. A. BENEDICT & Co., for carrying on the Hat, Cap and Fur business, and will continue the same at the old stand of J. A. BENEDICT, 152 East Water Street, where they hope to see all who may wish to purchase goods in their line.

Republican Congressional Convention.

SECOND DISTRICT.

A Republican Convention for the Second Congressional District in the State of Wisconsin, will be holden at the city of La Crosse, on Wednesday the 22d day of August, 1860, at 12 o'clock M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for member of Congress of said district, to be supported at the next general election.

Each Assembly District will be entitled to two delegates in said Convention.

The several Assembly District Committees are requested to take measures for the appointment of delegates to said Congressional Convention, from their respective districts.

MADISON, June 23d, 1860.

The Era of Letter-Writing.

The peculiar condition of political affairs has given a sudden impulse to letter-writing. Almost every day brings forth an epistle from some prominent Democrat, who is sorely exercised in mind by the unwonted discord in the party ranks and has a prescription to offer for the cure of the complaint; or who feels called upon, in justice to himself and for the satisfaction of his friends, to define his own position on the disputed questions of the day. We have, this morning, a letter from EX-PRESIDENT PIERCE, repudiating the action of the DOUGLAS Convention at Baltimore: endorsing the nominations of BRECKINRIDGE and LANE; deploring the unhappy division in the party ranks, and urging all good Democrats to forget personal preferences and make common cause against the Republican party. The advice of the Ex-President, however well intended, comes too late. Both the DOUGLAS and the BRECKINRIDGE National Committees repudiate the idea of fusion and are preparing to make fight, each on their own account. The wound in the Democratic party is past surgery. It is equally out of the power of the regular BRECKINRIDGE practitioners, or of the DOUGLAS quacks, to restore the patient to health.

Democratic Congressional Convention.

The Democratic Committee for this Congressional District, have issued a call for a Convention, to meet in this city on the 16th of next month, for the purpose of nominating a candidate in opposition to JOHN F. POTTER, our present able and faithful Representative. The News of Saturday publishes the call, and expresses a faint hope that, with a proper nomination, the Democracy may carry the District. The News can hardly be sincere in this expectation. Certainly the Republican party is much stronger in the First District than it was four years ago, when Mr. POTTER was elected by some three hundred majority over the strongest candidate and the most indefatigable worker the Democracy had in their ranks. Two years afterwards, in 1858, Mr. POTTER was re-elected by a largely increased majority; and in November he will, in all probability, receive a still more emphatic endorsement from the People.

This fact is so well understood by the Democratic leaders and aspirants that there is no crowding, or jostling among them for the empty honor of a Congressional nomination. Indeed, the difficulty thus far, has been to find a man who would consent to run. Several who were approached by the wire-pullers, declined to take the field in the face of a certain defeat. But the numerous candidates for the County Offices in Milwaukee feel that their chance of success will be seriously impaired unless they can prevail upon some suitable person to lend them the benefit of his name, by running for Congress They will spare no pains, therefore, to hunt up a good candidate, who may help them to get the chestnuts out of the fire, at the expense of his own fingers. It is possible that they may fail in both calculations.

TESCH, it is true, was not the Republican candidate. The Republicans made no nomination for the office. He was called out by several hundred citizens, without distinction of party, and did not solicit votes on party grounds. But we foresaw that if elected, the vote would be changed.—News of Saturday.

The News may thank its own friends for this "change of tune." Mr. VON BAUMBACH and Mr. TESCH were each called out by citizens, without distinction of party, and but for the intervention of the Democratic wire-workers would each have run on his individual claims and merits. The Democratic leaders, however, insisted on making the election of Treasurer a party test; so they called a Convention, nominated Mr VON BAUMBACH as the "regular" candidate, and then appealed strenuously to all true Democrats to support him, for party sake. The appeal failed. Mr. TESCH was triumphantly elected, and the "regulars" suffered a signal defeat.

"FAIR PLAY" DEMOCRATS.—A good many Democrats voted for Mr. Tesch, yesterday, on the ground that he was fairly elected Treasurer in April, and was therefore entitled to the office now. We give them credit accordingly.—Mil. Wisconsin.

The Sentinel, less disposed to "Fair Play," claims the election of Mr. Tesch as a Republican triumph, well knowing that he was elected by Democratic votes —votes that will contribute to swell the Democratic majority in that city in November, to 5,000.—Madison Patriot (dem.)

The paragraph which the fair-dealing Patriot credits to the Wisconsin, first appeared in and was copied from the SENTINEL. The SENTINEL does not "claim the election of Mr. TESCH as a Republican triumph," tho' it was an awkward Democratic defeat. The five thousand democratic majority in this city city, in November, that the Patriot talks about, is simply ridiculous. If the central organ of Wisconsin Democracy is no better posted about Milwaukee politics, it had better turn its attention to "rotary pumps" again.

COMMERCE OF NEW YORK.—The imports of the fiscal year at New York are $233,718,713, of which one hundred and seven millions was in dry goods, one hundred and twenty three millions in general merchandize, etc. This is by thirteen millions the largest total ever imported. The specie has increased nearly twelve millions on the year; the export of produce and merchandize, which amounted to nearly eighty millions, was twenty millions greater than last year. The Journal of Commerce says: "We enter upon the new fiscal year surrounded by the evidences of prosperity. The prospect of an extraordinary abundance in nearly all the crops of the country is brightened still more by the certainty of a foreign demand for a very considerable portion of our surplus."

STEAM VS. WATER.—A Lowell writer states that a careful computation shows the steam power of the Great Eastern steamship is equal to the water power that drives the mills at Lowell. This gives an idea of the immense power of the steamer, equal to that required for the works of the great manufacturing city of America.

THE BIRD.—The Republicans propose to change the ornithological symbol of America, by withdrawing the Eagle and substituting the Rail!

Hon. James O. Putnam to the Americans and Old Line Whigs.

An admirable letter from Hon. JAMES O. PUTNAM was read at the Conservative LINCOLN meeting in Union Square, New York, last Monday evening. We quote the closing portion:

"Now, let me ask, why should we not vote for Lincoln, and sustain the Republican policy? First—What is that policy in regard to the leading issue of the day? This and nothing more, as I understand it: To preserve to freedom Territories now free. In other words, to adhere to the principles of Mr. Clay, as declared by him in his memorable speech in 1840. It makes no retrograde movement in all that pertains to human progress. It does not propose to interfere with Slavery in the States, but the contrary. It has some Abolitionists in its body—so had the old Whig party. But it is no more an Abolition Party, and from the strong conservative element in it, can no more become so than can the Baltimore Union Party. Every liberal-minded man knows this. If it is sectional, because its ticket is made from the North, and its main support is in the North, the responsibility of this lies at the door of the Democratic Party; for it has established a reign of terror all over the South which renders it unsafe for men to co-operate with the organization.

Now who, and what, is Mr. Lincoln, that Conservative men should shrink from him as from contagion? I have read him carefully, and have not been able to find a sentiment in all his frank, unreserved discussions, which does not accord with what Mr. Clay has uttered over and over again. He is opposed to making Free Territory Slave.—So was Mr. Clay. He looks hopefully to the extinction of the institution, and the substitution of a more humane and just relation of labor to capital, and that by the parties interested, and in lawful and proper ways. So did Mr. Clay. He is no fanatic, bawling after equal, social, and political right, for the negro with the white race. Read his debate with Senator Douglas for the most sound and common-sense views on all this class of questions. He does believe the negro to be a man, and not a thing, and that the broad humanity of our Declaration of Independence which declares that all men are entitled to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, as the free gift of God, is a universal principle, as good at the tropics as in the temperate latitudes. Did Mr. Clay think otherwise? I see nothing in Mr. Lincoln's political character which repels me from his support.

In his personal character I find much that is attractive. It is the universal testimony, it comes from political foe and friend alike, who know him, and that he has kept his heart sound in all his life battle. So preeminent in his integrity, so deep rooted is his justice in public confidence, that his familiar appellation is a sobriquet indicative of that confidence.

Few men win this in any country. Aristides did, and he was banished from Athens because he was 'honest.'

We are not immaculate, but I do not believe we are yet prepared to banish our Aristides because he is called 'the just.'"

Very respectfully,
JAMES O. PUTNAM.

Another Change of Wind.

Only a few days ago, the N. Y. Herald seemed to favor, very decidedly, the DOUGLAS movement. But the BRECKINRIDGE demonstration in New York city, last Wednesday night, has wrought a wonderful change in the Herald, and now that paper talks as follows:

"THE MEETING LAST NIGHT—THE REVOLUTION IN PARTIES, AND ITS LESSON.—The Breckinridge and Lane ratification meeting held last night at the Cooper Institute, was a great success.

"When it is remembered that a few weeks ago Tammany was able to exhibit but a half-filled hall, notwithstanding the fact that the sachems were there in grand costume, the full old war horses of the Democracy came in full tide, and all the appliances and the ones honored name of Tammany were invoked to respond to the nomination of Douglas and Johnson, the spectacle presented last night at the Cooper Institute will be looked upon as an evidence of the great revolution that has taken place in the popular mind against the old corrupt organizations.

"The glory has passed away from Tammany, and the seat of power over the masses of this city is no longer in its Coal Hole. Corruption has worked out its legitimate result, and the venal leaders that have so long betrayed the trust confided to them have now been abandoned by the right hearted and right loving people.?

"With the exception of Mr. Dickinson, none of the names presented to the meeting last night, or of the movers in it, were those of old leaders whom the people have been accustomed to follow. A new set has come forward, and the enthusiastic cheers which hailed the hearty condemnation that was poured by the speakers upon the venal and corrupt Albany Regency and Tammany oligue show plainly the new tide that has set in in the popular feeling."

What Squatter Sovereignty Has Done.

From the Albany Evening Journal.

"It is part of the history of the country that under this doctrine of non-intervention, this doctrine that you delight to call squatter sovereignty, the people of New Mexico have introduced and protected slavery in the whole of that Territory. Under this doctrine, they have converted a tract of free territory into slave territory, more than five times the size of the State of New York. Under this doctrine slavery has been extended from the Rio Grande to the Gulf of California, and from the line of the Republic of Mexico, not only up to 36 deg. 30 min., but up to 38 deg."

These are not the charges of a political opponent to Mr. Douglas. They are confessions of Mr. Douglas himself, made in the Senate less than three months ago.

They are damaging arguments. Addressed to the South to conciliate the support of Slaveholders, they are equally well calculated to open the eyes of Northern freemen.

The claim they put forward is true. "Non-intervention" is no untried theory. It has been tried and has resulted, as Mr. Douglas states, in the extension of Slavery "from the Rio Grande to the Gulf of California, and up to the 38th degree of latitude." It is the most dangerous because the most insidious of slavery-extending devices. It seeks to undermine the freedom of the Territories by stealth. And it has been, within the last half-dozen years since it was broached, but too successful.

But it can be successful no longer. Like all games of deception, it is temporary only. It is useless to the one side and condemned by the other, as soon as events have revealed its true character. In the present contest it is repudiated both by the North and the South, and its representative candidate stands in danger of not receiving the endorsement of a single electoral vote.

Wm. H. Seward Coming to St. Paul!

From the St. Paul Minnesotian, July 16.

We learn that reliable intelligence has been received by Judge Goodrich, of this city, that Senator Seward, of New York, will be here in St Paul during the session of our State Convention, on the 15th of August next, and will address the Republicans of Minnesota on the issues of the campaign and in favor of the election of Lincoln and Hamlin to the Presidency of the United States.

We understand, further, that a grand Republican Mass Meeting for Wisconsin, Southern Minnesota, Northern Illinois and Iowa, will be held at La Crosse about the 20th of August, at which Mr. Seward will also be present and speak.

Since the above was written we have obtained a copy of Mr. Seward's letter, which is as follows:

MR. SEWARD'S LETTER.

AUBURN, July 10, 1860.

MY DEAR SIR:—I have just received your letter of the 6th of July. You have anticipated my innermost thoughts. Of course I should not be within two days' journey of Minnesota without going, even unbidden, to see you and the Republicans of that State.—I cannot, however, loiter even then, and so I must ask the State Central Committee to designate one place where I can express to the People my profound sense of their patriotism, and my gratitude for all their kindness to me, leaving me to designate the time hereafter, as I shall find myself able to control the circumstances around me

Ever faithfully, your friend,
WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

Hon. AARON GOODRICH.

POLITICS AND THE "LADY OF THE LAKE."—The "Wide Awakes" of Auburn, N. Y., having adopted a green uniform, the Union of that place gives the reasons therefor. The editor says very likely it came to the boys by the Lady of the Lake.

LINCOLN GREEN.

"Just as the minstrel's sounds were stayed,
A stranger climbed the steepy shade;
His martial step, and stately mien,
His hunting shirt of Lincoln Green;
His eagle glance, remembrance claims—
'Tis Snowdon's Knight! 'tis James Fitz James."
Lady of the Lake—Canto 4, Stanza 16.

"The sounds increase, and now are seen
Four mounted figures in Lincoln Green,
Two bear lance, and two who lead,
By loosened rein, a saddled steed."
Ibid—Canto 5, Stanza 17.

"He stood in simple Lincoln Green,
The center of the glittering ring,
And Snowdon's Knight is Scotland's King."
Canto 6, Stanza 26.

"—— Patriots mourn insulted laws,
And curse the Douglas for the cause.
Canto, Stanza 18.

PRESIDENT PIERCE FOR BRECKINRIDGE.

Recommends "Fusion" as the Only Hope of the Democracy.

BOSTON, July 13, 1860.

To the Editors of the Boston Post:—GENTLEMEN:—I have seen in several political presses, conflicting opinions ascribed to Ex-President Pierce in relation to the final action of the Baltimore Convention; and having had the opportunity at an early period, in a friendly correspondence, to learn the views of that eminent citizen in a crisis so important to the Democracy and the Union, which I know his further reflections have fully confirmed, I am happy to say that I am at liberty, without infringing on private courtesy, to send the letter to you for publication.

Very truly yours, &c.,
B. F. HALLETT.

HILLSBORO, N. H., June 29, 1860.

MY DEAR SIR:—Your letter from Baltimore directed to me at New York, and forwarded thence to Concord, has at last reached me here, and I will not lay it aside without saying a word in reply. Your rejection as a delegate was, in my judgment, a clear violation of right, but it must have gratified your friends on the spot, as it has me since, to observe that the wrong perpetrated in your exclusion was not more palpable than your vindication of sound principles, and of your claims to seat was conclusive and triumphant

It was vain to hope for harmony after the action of the majority upon the report of the committee on credentials. It could hardly have failed to be understood generally that such action must terminate the existence of the Convention as a body representing the Democracy of the Union, and eventuate in the present condition of the powerful and patriotic organization, which has so long upheld the equal rights, and vindicated in peace and in war the common honor of these confederated States. There has been, in fact, no nomination made in conformity with the established and recognised usages of that organization, and hence sound and faithful men will find nothing in the proceedings so far as the nominees are concerned, to bind their party fealty. Under these circumstances, it would gratify me exceedingly if our friends in all sections of the land could unite earnestly and cordially in the support of Mr. Breckinridge and General Lane, and thus insure for our cause, signal victory; but this cannot even be hoped for. What then is to be done with a result so repugnant to our wishes? It is of less consequence to discuss, who were right and who wrong upon the question of membership in the Convention, than it is to determine how the Democratic party, which united is invincible, can avert the calamity of an incorrigible breach.

If division is at present inevitable, it may be well to inquire whether it is to be permanent. Is devotion to principle, to the equal rights of the states, and to the integrity of the Union, to be sacrificed to any object of personal ambition, or, what is worse, if possible, to the blind control of passion, of which we have already had too much? Have the doctrines and sentiments of sectional fanaticism which culminated last year in the armed invasion of a sister state which the avowed purpose of exciting insurrection, ceased to be dangerous? Where is the evidence of change in the direction of sounder and more conservative opinions? I do not perceive it. It certainly is not to be found in the want of concert, so apparent among the great body of our countrymen, who are opposed to the principles and policy of which Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Hamlin are now the representative men.

While it would be culpable weakness to intermit effort for the right, there is neither wisdom nor courage in turning from a full view of the embarrassments which beset our party, and the dangers which threaten our country. The only manly idea on which to act is "Things are bad and may be worse, but with the blessing of God we will try and make them better." At all events it is no time for crimination and recrimination among those who expect hereafter to need and to have each the support of the other. It cannot mend the past—cannot help the present—and cannot fail to be disastrous to the future. He who takes a different view and acts upon it will only accumulate a harvest of regrets by uttering sentiments to be explained, qualified, or recalled, unless indeed he is already at the "half-way house," (where so many have stopped temporarily before) only to resume his march and take his place in the ranks of those whose opinions and action have been in direct antagonism with his own.

I am not without hope that the sterling Democracy of the Keystone State will be able unitedly to support the electoral ticket, already nominated by them, without regard to the preferences of the individual nominees, but with a satisfactory understanding as to the manner in which the votes of the State shall, in certain contingencies, be cast; and that their example may be followed by other States, and thus, something like unanimity be yet secured. Should a policy like this, at once conciliatory and just, be pursued, we may well be animated by fresh hope and confidence.

I expect to be in Boston next week, when we can interchange thoughts more fully and satisfactorily than it is possible to do by letter. In the meantime if you see the editors of the Post (especially Col. Greene,) will you express to them my thanks for the well-considered, able and dispassionate article in which they grappled with the emergency of a divided National Convention, and for the characteristic promptitude, which I am confident more ample time for reflection will fully justify. Very truly, your friend,
FRANKLIN PIERCE.

Hon. B. F. HALLETT, Boston, Mass.

Douglas Repudiates Himself,

From the Albany Journal.

"Slaves are regarded AS PROPERTY, and placed on an EQUAL FOOTING with all other property. Hence the owner of slaves—the same as the owner of any other species of property, HAS A RIGHT TO REMOVE TO ANY TERRITORY AND CARRY HIS PROPERTY WITH HIM.—Speech of Douglas in New Orleans, December, 1858.

It used to be thought that Slavery could only go where it was invited by specific local enactment. That was the old Democratic doctrine. But Douglas, in his zeal for Slavery, and to conciliate the South, initiated the abominable heresy, that the boundaries of Slavery are as broad as the Constitution. Under his interpretation, Slavery may go into every foot of territory belonging to the United States—law or no law. It is held to be as sacred and as sovereign as freedom.

Hence his boast that his doctrine had converted the whole of New Mexico, once Free, into Slave Territory. And so it did. Why should he not be rewarded for so noble an achievement?

Two Gentlemen Ladies and a Gentleman Drowned in the Potomac.

From the Cincinnati Gazette.

The announcement yesterday that two daughters of Dr. T. B. Harris, a well known citizen of Cincinnati, had been drowned in the Potomac, spread a gloom over a large circle of acquaintances and friends of the family. The ladies were beautiful and accomplished, and esteemed by all who knew them. A few weeks ago, in company with their brother, Morgan Harris, they took a pleasure trip to some of the Eastern cities, intending to spend a few days with some relatives residing in Charles county, Md. It seems while here they were induced to go on a yachting excursion with an uncle, Grant Harris, who keeps a pleasure boat on the Potomac for the amusement of himself and friends, and who was considered skillful in its management. Venturing too far from the shore without ballast, a squall struck and overturned the boat, and the two ladies and Grant Harris were drowned, the brother alone escaping by assistance of friends who had been witnesses of the terrible catastrophe from the shore, a distance of over a mile.

Though this occurred on Friday last, the first intimation received by the parents of their bereavement was from the arrival, last Tuesday evening, of Mr. Harris and Mr. Maddox, young gentlemen of Annapolis, and cousins of the girls, who were bearers of the sad intelligence. Delay was caused by having to send to Annapolis first, and by a failure of the trains to connect between that place and this. From latest information the bodies had not been recovered.

It is the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Harris to start for Maryland this morning, in company with the two gentlemen before mentioned.

A very accurate account of this unfortunate and lamentable affair is given in the Baltimore Sun of Monday, which we print below:

HEART-RENDING CALAMITY IN CHARLES COUNTY, MARYLAND.—A Yacht Party Overwhelmed in the Potomac—Drowning of Two Ladies and a Gentleman—Only one Escape.—We learned yesterday, from a private source, the particulars of a most deplorable event which occurred on Friday last in Charles County, Maryland, on the Potomac river, between Cedar Point and the lighthouse. Mr. Grant Harris, a most respectable and worthy young gentleman, residing in the vicinity of the shore, some time since purchased a sail boat in this city, and kept it on the Potomac shore for the amusement of himself and friends. Several weeks ago the family was visited by Mr. Morgan Harris, of Cincinnati, Ohio, all related by family ties, and connected by the warmest friendship.

On Friday morning, between 9 and 10 o'clock, Grant Harris proposed a sail on the Potomac, and accordingly embarked with his nephew, Morgan Harris, and his two nieces, Ursula and Nannie. Grant Harris, who is said to have been very skillful in the management of his yacht, ventured out to the distance of nearly a half mile from the shore, without ballast, to where the water is above forty feet deep, and runs rather wild and treacherous. The ladies became alarmed, and Grant Harris laughingly reproved them. Finally the yacht shipped some water, at the sight of which the ladies rose up, which unsettled the boat, and a gale striking her, she was capsized.

Now comes the most painful part of the recital. Grant Harris clung to his niece Ursula, while Morgan Harris grasped his sister Nannie, and all struggled to regain the boat. After going down once, Ursula, who was rather stout, relaxed her hold on Grant Harris and sank, followed by Grant and Nannie, Morgan Harris alone remaining above the vicious waters. He clung to the boat, and was rescued by friends from the shore, who were witnesses of the terrible scene.

The bodies had not been found up to the hour of our latest information from that quarter, (Saturday morning) though the river was being dragged at every point where there existed a possibility of finding the bodies.

The deceased were aged as follows: Grant Harris 26 years, Ursula 21, Nannie 19. Both were highly accomplished and much beloved.

The melancholy occurrence has spread a gloom over Charles county, such as has not been witnessed for many years.

PIMPLES AND SKIN DISEASES

ARE THE RESULT OF IMPURE blood. The blood becomes thick and clogged. The skin is not able to cast off the impurities so important to health. How many young men and women we see with their faces covered with pimples and blotches, who are endeavoring to remove them by the use of soaps and washes of various kinds. This is very dangerous and should never be practiced by persons desirous of good health. Mothers who have children afflicted with sores and eruptions should never dry them up by external applications for in this way they will drive in the humors and produce ill health for the child during its whole life time. There is no mother that likes to see her children afflicted with feeble health.

JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS are prepared expressly for the cure of eruptions of the skin, such as Pimples, Blotches, Sores, &c. They cleanse the blood of all impurities, producing a beautiful, clear and healthy skin, so much admired by all people of taste and refinement.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are sold by all medicine dealers. jy13d61dowcowim

MY LITTLE WIFE AND I.

BY ALFRED SELLY.

We're toiling on together,—
My little wife and I,
Thro' bright and sunny weather,
And 'neath a cloudless sky.

Our hearts have ne'er been parted,
And ne'er have known a woe,
Since first our troth we plighted—
Some twenty years ago.

We cheer each other often
With songs we used to sing:
It makes our old hearts soften,
Their old familiar ring.

Bound closely to each other—
By ties none can untie,
We're all in all to one another—
My little wife and I.

Though death these ties may sever,
Of this our earthly love,
We'll live and love forever,
In our long house above.

In bright or cloudy weather,
'Neath dark or sunny sky,
We'll wander on together—
My little wife and I.

SHEBOYGAN FALLS, Wis.

The Power of the Newspaper.

The following eloquent passage, illustrative of the power of a newspaper, we clip from the address lately delivered before the New York State Editorial Convention at Buffalo, by Samuel Williams, of the Utica Herald:

"A single illustration of the potency of the newspaper must suffice. Red tapeism presided at the head of affairs in England. The blunders of the circumlocution office had brought that mighty power face to face with dishonor. Her best blood had been ingloriously shed upon the bleak waters of the Crimean shores. Every gun that thundered from the frowning heights of Sebastopol chaunted a dim requiem to British glory.—Imbecility in the war office—debauchery in the camp—pretentious dullness assuming supreme command—promotion sold to the highest bidder—the army decimated by cold and hunger—pestilence holding high carnival within the English lines—the bravest hearts that ever faced danger sacrificed to the Moloch of Routine; might the lion of the sea-girt isle hang down his proud head in shame.

In this dark and troubled hour—when British valor had almost succumbed to its tinseled incompetency—when the light of her martial glory seemed almost quenched forever in the darkness of martial disgrace, a simple gentleman, dressed in the unassuming garb of an English traveler—distinguished by no insignia of power—pompous in no array of pretentious title—with no arms save his reporter's portfolio—with no credentials save the passport of 'our own correspondent'—appeared on the scene of action. No booming of cannon—no braying of trumpets—no waving of flashing banners—welcomed his coming. The shallow upstarts who caricatured British heroism, regarded him with mingled wonder and disdain. What business had this man, who could not trace his descent to the bastard son of a king or the discarded nephew of an earl—who never had been presented to her Majesty—who was tabooded in the salons of West End—whom the book of heraldry ignored—who could only write "squire" after his name—who had never drawn a trigger in his life—who had never seduced a tenant's daughter—who had never gambled at Baden-Baden—who had never graduated at the hells of Paris;—who, in short, was destitute of most of the prominent accomplishments of an English snob; —what business had he among the effeminate dandies that lounged around the camp of Lord Raglan? Ah, business enough: business of the gravest importance. He appered as the Ambassador of the London Times!

He scanned the field with the eye of a master. He saw at once the source and extent of the disgrace. He remorselessly probed that rotten system of management that had too long been the disgrace of the English army. He penetrated everywhere; into the tattered camp of the common soldier; into the more lordly camp of the superior officer; into the superb pavilion of the commander-in-chief; into the mess room, where famine held her court; into the hospitals, where disease swayed her dim sceptre. He held up to the gaze of indignant Europe the sufferings of the soldier, the empty arrogance of the officer, the incompetency of the chief. He exposed, too, the hideous debaucheries of the camp, the blunders of the commissary department, the "irrepressible conflict" of authority between different heads of power, which rendered efficiency impossible. He told Lord Raglan to his face that he was a hoary imbecile, and Lord Cardigan that his military character was as disgraceful as his private life was infamous.

The world heard his story with wonder and disgust. His glowing words set the public heart on fire. His astonishing revelations aroused public sentiment as it had seldom been aroused before. England was convulsed with shame and indignation. The press caught up the slanderous tale and blazoned it like a foul banner before the public eye.—The pulpit thundered its protest, and parliament awakened to the fact that operations in the Crimea had been but the sorriest parody upon military achievements. Public meetings were held; petitions and remonstrances were scattered like Autumn leaves; the admiralty was overhauled; the horse guard was brought to its senses, committees of investigation were appointed by parliament; drunken officers and broken generals of divisions were reprimanded; and the whole machinery of operations remodeled. A new life was infused into the army. A more healthful tone pervaded at once the ranks and the higher grades. The brave soldier, conscious that the eyes of the world were turned half scornfully towards him, fought with the fierce energy of desperation. Something of the olden prestige was revived—something of the olden glory was achieved. That England rescued her name from disgrace—that in the final struggle she proved herself still to be the mother of heroic men—was due less to the sword of Gen. Simpson, than to the pen of William Russell."

THESE POPULAR BITTERS POSSESS all the nourishing and invigorating properties of PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY, and are considered the most efficacious TONIC and STIMULANT as well as the most agreeable SEMI-ANALYTIC ever off-red the public. As a TONIC FOR OLD PEOPLE, delicate Ladies, convalescent invalids, and all weaklings generally, they cannot be surpassed; in all cases of WEAKNESS or DEBILITY, they will give immediate relief, and impart a strong and healthy tone to the system. A trial will establish their merits over all other Tonics now in use. FOR LIVER COMPLAINTS, BRONCHITIS DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DISEASES AND LOW COMPLAINTS, they are an invaluable remedy; and are a certain preventive of CHILLS and FEVERS. Put up in Quart Bottles, in cases of one and two dozen, and for sale by Druggists and Grocers everywhere.

HUNN & CROSBY,

No. 194 East Water St., Milwaukee.

Two doors north of Uncle Ben's Hat Store.

TAKE THIS OCCASION TO ANnounce to their friends, and the public at large, that they have removed from their old quarters to their present location, for the purpose of increasing our facilities to attend to the wants of their business, and to keep pace with the requirements of their trade. We have just made many additions to our stock, which makes ours the best assorted Family store in town, and we intend to be in future, as we always have been in the past, the first in the market with every novelty of the season. We are receiving goods every week from the East, thereby always keeping our stock fresh and full. Everything pertaining to the trade can be found at our establishment, and we are prepared to sell at wholesale as well as retail, on as low terms as any house in town. Teas, Sugars, Coffees, Dried Fruits, Hermetically Sealed Fruit, and every other article usually kept in first-class family stores, are sold by us, and always warranted as represented. We will sell you a better tea for forty cents, than you can buy anywhere else in town for seventy five, and as good a one for forty, as any windy coffee roasters, who make such a blow on Teas and coffees, can supply. We mean what we say, and stand ready to verify it every hour in the day, and every day in the week. We make it a point never to be undersold, and want it distinctly understood that we do our business upon that principle.

Country merchants can always sort up their stock with us to a good advantage. We will sell you goods by the package as low as any of the wholesale dealers down town.

Butter and Eggs are received by us daily, from our agents in the country.

☞ TERMS CASH.

We cordially invite our friends and customers, and the public generally, to call and see us in our new institution, and make an examination of our goods and prices. Particular attention paid to orders.

St. Nicholas Hotel,

BROADWAY,

NEW YORK.

WHEN COMPLETED, SIX YEARS ago, the St. Nicholas was universally pronounced the most magnificent, convenient and thoroughly organized establishment of the kind on this continent. What it was then, it remains today, and in addition to the many improvements and the general comforts of comfort and enjoyment. The Hotel has accommodations for 1,000 guests, including 100 complete suites of apartments. Six hundred persons can be comfor tably seated at the tables of its three public dining rooms, and nothing that modern art has devised for the convenience and social gratification of the traveling public has been omitted in its plan or is neglected in its practical details. The only exception of the kind to be found at home and abroad derived from its magnitude, its superb appointments, and its honorable conducts and management, has been universally every by the unwarranted assertions of the proprietors.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

St. Louis Matters.

ST. LOUIS, July 21—9 P. M.

A duel was fought on Bloody Island, opposite this city, to-day, between Emmett McDonald and Sylvan Cartan. After two shots with rifles at a distance of 150 feet, a compromise was effected. Neither party injured.

The Democracy are holding a meeting at their headquarters to-night to ratify the nominations for Congress, Legislature, and County officers.

Charles Hassaurek, of Cincinnati, and Judge Trumbull, of Ill., are addressing a meeting at Lucas Market.

Mr. Blair has spoken to his constituents every evening this week. He seems to have energetically opened the canvass.

There were 13 fatal cases of sun stroke yesterday, including Peter Gallaher a notorious prize fighter.

Douglas Meeting at Fond du Lac.

FOND DU LAC, July 21—8 P. M.

The Douglas demonstration here last night was very large and enthusiastic. The torch light procession was about a mile in length, including an Oshkosh delegation of 200. The streets through which the procession passed were crowded with people. Speeches were made at the Court House Square to an immense crowd, by Messrs. Brand and Eldridge, of this city, and ex-Attorney General Bouck, of Oshkosh. It is conceded by all parties to have been the largest political gathering ever held in Northern Wisconsin.

Brick! Brick! We Pity You!

LA CROSSE, July 21—9 P. M.

M. M. Pomeroy, better known as Brick Pomeroy, of the Union & Democrat, and Leonard Lottridge, of the Republican, have just made a bet of $8,500 on the result of the approaching election. They bet the materials of their respective printing offices; Pomeroy betting that Douglas will carry both Illinois and Wisconsin; Lottridge betting that he will not carry both. The bet is made and papers deposited in the Katanyan Bank.

Immense Republican Gathering at Vincennes, Indiana.

VINCENNES, Ind., July 21—9 P. M.

From six to ten thousand people assembled here to-day to hear Cassius M. Clay speak. It was the largest political gathering ever held in this section of the State. Extra trains were run over all the railroads. The greatest enthusiasm was manifested. One delegation was headed by eight yoke of oxen drawing a platform upon which were men splitting rails. Speeches were made by Judge Ketchell and Nathaniel Usher.

Douglas Meeting at Fulton, Illinois.

FULTON, July 22—9 P. M.

The people rallied en masse here, last night, to ratify the nomination of Douglas and Johnson. Three immense meetings were held at the same time, which were addressed by Hon. Edward Marshall of Ky., Hon. Sandford E. Church and Hon. Francis E. Spinola.

The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. After the meeting the Douglas Club had a grand torchlight procession. There was at least five thousand persons present.

Accident to the Overland Mail Coach.

VAN BUREN, Ark., July 21—9 P. M.

Intelligence reached here this evening that the Overland Mail Coach, coming East from California, met with a serious accident at Mountain Pass, Choctaw Nation. A team ran away, killing one and seriously injuring several others, and completely wrecking the hack. It will be delayed some thirty hours beyond the usual time.

Democracy in New Jersey.

NEWARK, N. J. July 21—9 P. M.

The Democracy of this city held primary meetings to-day to elect delegates to the State Convention. The election resulted in forty-nine delegates on the union electoral ticket being chosen, to eleven straight-out delegates. The Douglas men are disappointed with the result, and will choose a full set of contesting delegates.

Sailing of the Steamer Fulton.

NEW YORK, July 21—8 P. M.

The steamer Fulton sailed to-day, for Southampton and Havre, with 120 passengers and $60,000 in specie. She took New Orleans mails of the 17th and telegrams of the 19th.

Steamship Glasgow sailed for Liverpool with 150 passengers and $160,000 in specie.

MILWAUKEE COUNTY COURT.—IN PROBATE.

In the matter of the Guardianship of the minor heirs of Hugh Bowie, deceased. It appearing to this Court, from the petition of Bridget Bowie, guardian of Catherine Bowie, Alice Bowie and Thomas Bowie, minor heirs of Hugh Bowie, deceased, that it is necessary to sell certain real estate belonging to said wards and for the payment of debts and for their support and education, it is ordered that the next of kin of the said wards and all persons interested in said estate appear before this Court, at the Probate Office in the City of Milwaukee, on the 25th day of August, A. D. 1860, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to show cause why the said petition should not be granted for the sale of said real estate according to the prayer of said petition. And it is further ordered, that notice be given to the next of kin of said wards, and to all persons interested in said estate, of the time and place of hearing said petition, by publishing a copy of this order, for at least four successive weeks, in the SENTINEL, a newspaper circulating in Milwaukee County, previous to said time of hearing.

By the Court, ALBERT SMITH, County Judge.

COMMERCIAL.

MONETARY.

SATURDAY P. M., July 21st, 1860.

The money market is quiet and steady. Rates have not changed in any respect since last week. Considering the quietness that usually prevails at this season in general business, there has been a very good demand for money which has been freely met by the banks, the offerings of good business paper being taken without hesitation. We are, however, approaching the period when it may be expected that the banks will begin to contract their line of mercantile discounts, preparatory to the movement of the new crops, which promises to be much larger than ever before. Exchange on New York has ruled at 1¼ ₰ cent premium, notwithstanding the decline of ¼ ₰ cent at Chicago.

Our wholesale merchants, without exception, report a gratifying improvement in trade as compared with last season. Indeed, there never was a season in the most prosperous times the West has yet seen, when our merchants had so much business in the middle of the summer as they are now doing, and the prospects for an unusually active Fall trade were never so encouraging.

CHICAGO MONEY MARKET.—The Press & Tribune of this morning, says:

The money market is quiet, and no change in any department has occurred since yesterday's report. Exchange is steady at 1 per cent premium for currency. The buying rate is ¾. Gold 1¼, and dull. The general money market is well supplied.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—We have the following stock quotations by telegraph from New York to-day:

First Board—C & R 174¾, C B & Q 75, C & T 36¾, N Y C 82¾, C & P 11, L & G 95¾, Pan 94¾, R & C 10, Reading 45¾, M S & N I 23¾, Illinois Cen 96, Harlem 15¾, do pref'd 42¾, Hudson 53¾, Erie 21¾, I C scrip 70¾, D L & W 95, Reading 45¾, P M Co 83, B & H 96¾, N C 6s 96¾, N Y C 7s 100¾; La Cr Grants 15¾.

NEW YORK CANAL TOLLS.—The tolls received on all the New York Canals from the opening of navigation to and including the two weeks in July.

1860,	$947,824 52
Do. in 1859,	575,991 66
Increase in 1860. ...	$268,532 86

This gratifying increase is wholly due to the increased movement of Western produce towards tide-water It will doubtless continue through the season.

COMMERCIAL

SATURDAY P. M., July 21st, 1860.

The A. M. report from New York to-day represented wheat as declining, but the quotations for Milwaukee Club, we observe, were unchanged. In this evening's report, however, it is quoted at $1,26@1,27.

Our market was nominally 5@6c lower than the opening prices of yesterday, for wheat, but with one or two unimportant exceptions holders refused to sell at the reduced offers, and a buyer who wanted a few thousand bushels was obliged to pay $1,05 for No. 2 Spring on board. Towards the close the highest price offered for the same quality in store was $1,02. The flour market remains at a stand, the stock being too light to create any export demand. Coarse grains were quiet. Oats 35@36c delivered. Corn 41@42c. New Barley 57@59c for best. New Rye 55@56c, old being better for grinding, is worth 90c. Hides were quoted a shade lower; other articles unchanged. The brig David Ferguson, and propeller Galena were chartered for wheat to Buffalo at 7 and 8c respectively.

The receipts during the past week have been so trifling, owing to the largest operations now in full progress, and business in the produce market consequently so light, that we omit our usual weekly summary of sales.

The following statement exhibits the daily receipts of flour and grain by railroad for the past week, and also the exports of the same articles by lake for the week:

CHICAGO MARKET, JULY 20TH.—Receipts of flour and grain, at Chicago, yesterday, were as follows:

Flour, bbls	95
Wheat, bus	17,084
Corn, bus	55,618
Oats, bus	9,849
Barley, bus.....	667
Rye, bus.....	1,017

In reference to the market the Press & Tribune says:

The Corn market was scarcely so buoyant to-day, and we note a decline of ½¢ below the outside price paid yesterday. At the opening the market was tolerably firm, and sales of No. 1 were made at 48¾c in store; but as soon as the steamer's news was announced at the market broke under, and sales at the same point an improvement was announced, when it closed firm with some transactions at 48¾c. About 180,000 bus bushels were sold at 48¾@48c for Canal afloat; 47½@47¾c for No. 2, and 46½@47c for Rejected. The Wheat market was very dull, and a decline of 2@3c took place on Winter. Spring Wheat was also dull and a shade lower. About 15,000 bus wheat was sold at 1,10@1,11 for No. 1; 1,06@1,09 for No. 2 Red 90@92c for Rejected Red; 1,02@1,08 for No. 1 Spring; 1,00@1,02 for No. 2 Spring; and 85@90c for Rejected Spring. The samples of new spring wheat shown on Change to-day were excellent—some of it weighing 66 lbs to the measured bus. No difference was made to-day between the price of old and new spring wheat. The Flour market showed more activity to-day. About 750 bbls were sold at $4 85@5,12½ for No. 3 to choice Spring extra, and 1,000 bbls of a good city brand were sold for delivery between now and the 10th day of August, seller's option, at $4,90 at mill. A lot of 50 bbls new spring wheat flour was received to-day—the first of the season—by H. C. Livingston & Co., a sample of which was exhibited on Change, and elicited much admiration. It was a mixture of Club and Spring wheat flour, and several good judges at first sight called it white winter. It was made at the "Champion Mills," Dixon, Ill., by Messrs. Uhl & Becker. Oats were in good shipping demand to-day, and the market a shade better—sales noted made at 30@30½c in store. Rye was in good demand, but the supply is yet light and the market a most here. There is a fair inquiry for Barley, and limited sales were made at 55@56c for No. 2 in store, and 57c for prime held for sale. Highwines declined 2c—about 200 bbls being sold at 17½@17¾c for country, and 18c for city. Hides continue dull, and buyers are acting with much precaution, in view of the unsettled state of the market in New York and Liverpool. Woolvery quiet, with but little arriving for sale.

Freights were more active and rates declined 2c.—One propeller and six sail vessels were engaged at 6c for corn to Buffalo, but at the close there were but few vessels left, and the downward tendency was somewhat checked.

THE ENGLISH PANIC AND HIDE AND LEATHER TRADE OF NEW YORK.—The news received per Vanderbilt on the panic in the hide and leather trade in England caused by the suspension of several of the leading houses in that line, has had a very depressing influence upon the market for hides and leather, sellers refusing to operate for the present. It is evident that the price of hides has been too high all over the world, and the European markets have been instrumental in sustaining the high rates. Most of the other large markets have speculated largely, and advanced its price of the raw material to an extremely high figure. This speculation has been the cause of the embarrassment among the English houses, and now the panic is creating factors who have caused the inflation in prices of both the raw goods and manufactured articles, are removed, a very material depression in the value of both commodities must be expected. Most of the other large New York traders have been curtailing their operations for some time past, and at present the liabilities of these "Swamp" houses are comparatively small.—They stand on a safe and firm basis, and no one can have a fear as to the solvency of either party. The effect upon our market will be a good one, for while it will tend to put hides down to living, paying prices, and cause a very large reduction in the hide-producing countries, it will also help many of the manufacturers in the price of the manufactured articles as the stock in the hands of our swamp merchants is not large, and the boot and shoe manufacturing interests is in a good position. To get a material reduction will have to be rebuilded to upon our present large stock of hides is apparent, as they have been selling at from three to four cents per pound more than they would bring when manufactured into leather, and large leather has been sustained on all the hides sent out to tan during the last twelve months.—N. Y. Herald, of Wednesday.

Daily Review of Milwaukee Markets.

SATURDAY, July 21st—P. M.

There were no sales to-day of any account, except in a retail way, the arrivals being barely sufficient to supply the local trade, and little or none are held for sale here. For fair to choice country Extras $4,75@5 are probably as good prices as can be realized. The proprietor of the "Milwaukee Steam Mills," reports sales of 300 bbls of his Extra flour at $5,25, delivered in small lots.

WHEAT.—The market is irregular, but closes very dull with a strong downward tendency. Sales include: 3,400 bus No. 1 spring f. o. b. (early) at $1,05; 500 bus do delivered (later) at $1,02; 350 bus No. 2 in store at 95; 50 bus Extra delivered at $1,12; 100 bus do deal $1,18.

OATS.—Firm at 28@29c delivered; and 26c f. o. b. A small lot sold in a retail way at 30c.

CORN.—A shade lower, and supply better. A small car load sold to-day at 41c delivered.

BARLEY.—Prime new 55@60c; damp barley is unsalable, except at a great reduction from its value if in good saleable condition.

RYE.—A little new rye begins to arrive and brings 50@56c. Millers give the preference to old, for which they are paying about 60c.

HIDES.—A shade lower. The principal buyers quote green 6@6½c; green salted 7@7½c; dry 12@14c; dry flint 13@14c.

WOOL.—Unchanged and quiet, prices ranging from 30 to 40c for common native to full blood merino. Sales to-day include: 1,500 lbs mixed wool from common to ¼ blood at 31c.

SPIRITS.—Highwines quiet and quoted at 19c; whiskey 18@17c; alcohol 39c.

BUTTER.—Good fresh butter is scarce, but there is an abundance of inferior butter on the market. We quote 8@10 5½@6c; roll 9@10c.

EGGS.—Plenty at 12c by the bbl.

POTATOES.—Old 75@90c; new 80@40c, and market well supplied.

CATTLE.—Beef cattle has been in good supply at $2,50@3 gross for fair to extra.

SHEEP and Lambs have been selling at $2@3 each.

Milwaukee Lumber Market.

(FOR WEEK ENDING JULY 20TH, 1860.)

Receipts as compared with last season:

	This week.	Last week.	For the season.
Lumber, feet ...	600,000	1,000,000	15,000,000
Shingles	340,000	500,000	9,000,000
Lath, ft.....	44,000	92,000	1,047,000

There has been but little lumber on the market for the week just past, and with a better inquiry for engines from country dealers, prices have stiffened considerably. In fact, sales have been made at 25c to 50 ₰ M better than last week. Our dealers are confident of a still further advance, should crops turn out as well as they promise, and anything like fair prices be realized for them. Trade from yards dull.

Among the sales of cargoes are the following:

Cargo of schr. Stronach, from Manistee, $6;

NEW YORK MARKET.

[By Telegraph.]

NEW YORK, July 21—6 P. M.

ASHES Market steady. Sales 250 bbls at 5,12 for pots; 5,62 for pearls.

FLOUR—Dull and unchanged. Sales 50 bbls at 10c for middling uplands.

FLOUR—Market dull, heavy and lower; shippers not disposed to buy very freely, while the home trade refuse to take more than sufficient to supply passing wants.
